

Editor's Note

Welcome to the 7th edition of the Undergraduate Journal of Psychology at Berkeley. This edition showcases careful experiments and thoughtful reviews conducted by undergraduate researchers from coast to coast.

This publication is the product of the very best that undergraduates have to offer. From the quality of the research to the dedication of the editing team, this journal highlights the potential and professionalism of the undergraduates who contributed to it. I hope that this inspires, educates, and helps to foster a thriving community of bright minds working in one of the most fertile and fascinating areas of science.

I extend my thanks to the authors for the privilege of publishing their work, to the editing staff for their tireless efforts, and to our webmaster, whose work allows us to remain open source and available to all. Finally, I thank our readers for their invaluable support.

Now, onto the science.
